

FINANCIAL AID CONSIDERATIONS

The financial aid office understands that students may miss time due to the flu pandemic. Our office is committed to help you should you become ill and miss time in class.

If you are a "clock hour" student, your financial aid is dependent on you maintaining 91% cumulative attendance. Should you miss time and find your cumulative attendance has dropped below 91%, you may obtain a financial aid appeal form from our office. Financial aid can excuse up to 10% of the quarter hours on an appeal. Please include documentation from a doctor if available.

If you are a "credit hour" student, your financial aid is dependent on your quarter G.P.A. being at or above 2.0. You also must complete a certain percentage of the total credits for which you've enrolled. Your attendance is not a factor in your financial aid eligibility so you would not need to submit an appeal if you miss time. Just be sure to have a plan with your instructor on how to keep up with your curriculum.

Feel free to contact our office at (425)235-5841 or by email at finaid@rtc.edu.