Advisory Council and Foundation

The Renton Technical College Advisory Council

A key contributor to the College's success in training students is its advisory committees. The RTC Advisory Council, whose membership consists of volunteers from business, industry, labor, and community-based organizations, advises administration on issues related to all of its instructional programs. Special emphasis is placed on WorkFirst and Worker Retraining programs.

Professional-technical programs, apprenticeship programs and non-professional-technical programs are also served by separate program advisory committees, which are comprised of volunteer representatives from management and labor who are currently working in the applicable field. These committees work with faculty and administration to ensure that program content is consistent with current employment needs; recommend competent journey level workers and technicians as instructors; assess the adequacy of facilities, supplies, materials and equipment; monitor each program's placement record; and evaluate overall program performance. Annually, each committee specifies in writing whether a program should be expanded, curtailed, maintained or abolished. These dedicated advisory committee members volunteer their time and energy to ensure that the College provides quality education.

The Renton Technical College Foundation

The Renton Technical College Foundation is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit corporation that generates funds and other resources to help students with career training. The Foundation, directed by a board of dedicated community volunteers, links the college to the community in actively supporting students' preparation for high-wage employment. The Foundation recognizes the challenges to quality education at Renton Technical College:

- Providing access for more students.
- Maintaining or enhancing program resources.
- Offsetting costs for students and the college.

The Foundation meets these challenges by generating support for student scholarships, rewarding faculty and staff excellence, enhancing library resources, providing instructional equipment, investing in capital projects, and assisting in community advocacy.

The community is proud of Renton Technical College's impressive contributions through professional-technical education. Charitable contributions to the Foundation will uphold the college's commitment to student achievement and learning excellence.

If you would like more information about the Foundation or how you can help, please call the Foundation office at 425.235.2356 or email foundation@RTC.edu.
